BOOKS AND DISCS/DVDS

Forthcoming

- 2018 Medium Design (Moscow: Strelka Press).
 2017 ARQ DOCs (Santiago, Chile: Ediciones ARQ), collection and translation of essays
- 2014 Extrastatecraft: The power of infrastructure space (London: Verso).
 The book researches global infrastructure as a medium of polity and an underexploited tutor of artistic and political imagination. Studies of three global infrastructure platforms (the free zone, broadband in East Africa, and ISO's quality management) join with three contemplations that consider expanded repertoires for form-making, history telling and political activism.
- 2014 Subtraction (Berlin: Sternberg Press).
 Subtraction considers the art of removing building. The book looks at the technologies, economies and traditions of development in retreat. It argues that architects—trained to make the building machine lurch forward—may know something about how to put it into reverse.
- 2012 The Action is the Form: Victor Hugo's TED Talk (Moscow: Strelka Press).
 The book argues that some of the world's most formulaic spatial products make space into a powerful medium of information and polity. That medium responds not only to object form but to active form—a kind of form-making that, like software, establishes an interplay between spatial variables.
- 2005 Enduring Innocence: Global Architecture and its Political Masquerades (Cambridge: MIT Press).
 The book compiles six stories and three contemplations about spatial products in difficult political situations. The material includes tourism in North Korea, Spanish greenhouse agripoles, container ports, franchises, South Asian IT campuses and the global industry of destroying buildings. The contemplations proffer a new political imagination and ingenuity for architecture.
 Winner Gustav Ranis International Book award for best new book on international topics by Yale faculty in 2005
- 1999 Organization Space: Landscapes, Highways and Houses in America (Cambridge: MIT Press).
 The book uses contemporary network theory to investigate 20th century American infrastructure. It looks at: 1) landscape as economic and transportation infrastructure through the work of Benton MacKaye; 2) the cultural and legislative history of intermodality and the Interstate Highway system; and 3) the logistical formats for Post War housing development.

BOOKS AND DISCS/DVDS (cont.)

- 1993 American Town Plans (New York: Princeton Architectural Press).
 The book redraws, in the same scale, American development formats, from St. Augustine to mid-19th century suburbs to contemporary golf resorts. Subdivisions are compared not only by size but by sponsorship and governance. Drawings and data are compiled on a hypercard diskette that accompanies the book.

Books edited

- 2002 Coeditor, Special issue of the Journal of Architectural Education, Digital Design.
 1997 Coeditor, Suspension, publication accompanying Documenta X, exhibition by Jordan Crandall (Berlin: Edition Schellman, 1997)
 1991 Coeditor with David Mohney, Seaside: Making a Town in America (New York: Princeton Architectural Press, 1991). AIA Award 1992.

Discs

- 1992 Call It Home: The house that private enterprise built (Santa Monica: Voyager Press, 1992) (with Richard Prelinger)
 This laserdisc history of suburbia from 1934-1960 compiles 55 minutes of running footage, 2800 stills and 50 minutes of archival radio from government archives and private repositories around the country to chronicle the suburban house as a flagship industry and financial formula from the depression to the Post War era.

DVD remastering of Call it Home, published March 2013.

WEB PUBLICATIONS

Installations

2009-2010 Extrastatecraft

Funded by the Jan van Eyck Academie, the site publishes on-going research on global standard-making and other extra-state “soft law” as it affects architecture and urbanism. The site maps new constellations of the ballooning numbers of non-governmental and intergovernmental organizations. These are keyed to short video/animations and longer essays. The site will remain as a resource and archive to publish other similar projects by other researchers. The first five contributions will be exhibited.

- 2001 <http://kellereasterling.com/media/the-high-line-plotting-nyc>
The High Line: Plotting NYC
 Four intertwining stories (real estate, business, programmatic and atmospheric) contribute to active urban document—a web machine for designing the highline.
- 1999 <http://kellereasterling.com/media/wildcards-the-components-of-global-development->
 A Game of Orgman
 The logistical rather than formal apparatus for a suite of five global companies and their repetitive spatial products are compared or “played” as if components of a slot machine.
- 1995 www.arch.columbia.edu/projects/faculty/call-it-home/index.html—Call it Home ,
